You do not plan a wedding in order to give away 10 lbs of Jordan Almonds. A wedding means you are uniquely, creatively, establishing an atmosphere to honor commitment, dedication and traditions for yourself and those whom you care about.

Whether family, friends or colleagues, Covenant Coordinating understands and would be privileged to help.

Respecting your time commitments, when we schedule an appointment

I will be on time.

Having set aside a special time for you, please call 24 hours in advance if you need to adjust your schedule.

Thank you.

Covenant Coordinating is a Healdsburg based wedding coordination company. Covenant Coordinating's goals and standards reflect the placement of high value on people and relationships. To this end, weddings are not a numbers game with Covenant Coordinating. Memories and relationships created as you plan will remain a part of your wedding forever. Working together to achieve your vision, is best attained through a covenant commitment to service, reflected in an attitude which shows I care about our relationship and therefore your needs.
